Welcome!

The second Information Systems for Crisis Response and Management (ISCRAM) Asia Pacific regional conference will take place on 7-9 November 2022 at RMIT in Melbourne. This event follows the first ISCRAM Asia Pacific conference that was held in Wellington New Zealand in November 2018. Conference participants will be welcomed to Melbourne which is home to several research institutions focusing on disaster-risk reduction and is one of the 100 Resilient Cities of the World.

The conference theme is "Dealing with the unexpected" and this has been the lived experience for everyone recently as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. However, before that the Australian summer of 2019/20 saw some of the largest and most widespread bushfires in living memory with unprecedented smoke haze leading to extensive air quality at hazardous levels. Such events could be expected to increase in frequency and intensity due to climate change.

ISCRAM Asia Pacific 2022 will cater for practitioners, researchers and developers from government, NGOs, and industry, particularly from around the Pacific, but encompassing global participation from New Zealand, Oceania, Asia, North and South America and Europe.

Hybrid Programme for ISCRAM Asia Pacific 2022

The in person event in Melbourne - Keynotes; plenaries; parallel sessions and workshops; poster presentations & displays; Tour of relevant facilities and points of interest; Social programme (Icebreaker, dinner).

The virtual event will allow people to volunteer to host a hub in their location to view either a live stream or recorded content with the opportunity to network with your peers in your location. You will also have the opportunity to view content via the virtual platform from your own device without having to join a hub.
